FROM VICE CHANCELLOR'S DESK

Education gives knowledge to a person which in turn translates into wisdom. The ability to implement knowledge into a productive process serves mankind.

Sister Nivedita University with its brilliant faculty team will give the students the required expertise to gain that knowledge. But in order to transform that knowledge, the students are required to develop their own value chain.

I would recommend everyone to develop their extra-curricular skills and also understand the application of your conceptual learning. I would also want you all to follow your heart and passion. Do not choose a subject only because of lucrative job offers, but only if you have the passion to follow it. Money does not work during the dull times, it is the passion which keeps you going.

My profession has given me the privilege to interact with students from various timelines, and all the students had one thing in common - they chose a field which they liked. Utilise the campus resources, interact with faculty members to understand your potentials and strengths, and I am sure the intellectual ambience of our campus will help in converting your efforts into a success story. And above all, be a good human being.

PROF. (DR.) DHRUBAJYOTI CHATTOPADHYAY

VIBRANT CAMPUS LIFE

INDUSTRY CONNECT

PROUD TO BE AN "SNU ITE"

SNU turned my journalism dream into reality. Republic TV placement as a Reporter proves it. The faculty didn't just teach, they mentored, pushing me to find my voice and harness my passion. Forever grateful! to my second home, SNU.

Hridita Chatterjee: B.A. Journalism and Mass Communication

SNU wasn't planned, but my dream was. The faculty's belief in me was transformative. eLong nights in the studios taught me dedication. Grateful to SNU, my second home, as I start my next chapter at Netaji Subhash Engineering College as Technical Asst.

Shreejita Bhowmik: M.A. Journalism and Mass Communication

SNU shaped my media and marketing skills, allowing me to build a career in digital marketing. It gave me the foundation to manage brands and grow in the industry. I work as a social media manager at Evoblazed by Hands in Noida.

Adrija Bhattacharya: M.A. Journalism and Mass Communication

A former Amazonian, now currently working for Accenture as an Instructional Designer. But to crack the industry, and two big MNCs as my start, wasn't easy. That's where the role of SNU comes in. From shaping discipline to taking us beyond the classroom in the field, every student here gets to explore what they want.

Vaishnavi Shukla: M.A. Journalism and Mass Communication

In my final year of postgraduate studies, I'm developing a strong skillset as an editor, cinematographer, and even a basketball player. I'm currently working as a US Sports Writer for Essentially Sports, covering their sports highlights.

Fatima Roshni: M.A. Journalism and Mass Communication

SNU was about building a strong foundation. The Indian Express placement as a Video Producer is a testament to the practical training and mentorship I received. How can I forget those late nights for on-ground projects and the unforgettable experiences.

What I'm today is just for my MCAJ dept. Grateful for the journey at SNU!

Hemraj Ali: B.A. Journalism and Mass Communication
